France Joins Others In Stand Against War As Racial Fight Hinted

WASHINGTON, Sept. 13. (AP)—The United States threw its full moral support into the scales against war today in a stirring, last-minute appeal by Secretary Hull for a peaceful settlement of the threatened Italo-Ethiopian conflict.

Proclaiming the peaceful ideals of the American people and citing this government's contributions toward the world's collective efforts to avert hostilities, Secretary Hull called on all signatories of the Kellogg peace pact to observe their solemn obligations and maintain world peace.

Not Formal Invocation
Although the strong plea made in the form of a public statement last night—was not a formal invocation of the peace pact, it was interpreted by international observers here as lacking only the mechanical details and the added weight of other signatories to make it so.

Emphasizing that Italy and Ethiopia—along with 61 other nations—have pledged themselves to settle their dispute by pacific means, Mr. Hull declared that since war would have serious and adverse effects on every other nation they had a right to demand that nations threatening world peace live up to their obligations.

"All nations," he said, "have the right to ask that any and all issues, between whatsoever nations, be resolved by pacific means."

LAVAL BACKS PEACE
HOPES; THREAT HURLED

GENEVA, Sept. 13. (AP)—Premier Laval of France today placed France in the ranks with Great Britain, Russia, and the smaller nations of Europe in defense of the peace obligations of the League of Nations covenant.

"Our obligations are inscribed in the covenant," Laval told the League of Nations assembly. "France will not evade those obligations."

(An Italian government spokesman in Rome stated that what Laval said was neither favorable nor unfavorable to Italy and that it would have no effect upon Italy's course of action.)

McAdoo to Wed; She
Is 26 and He Is 71

Senator William Gibbs McAdoo may doze during senate sessions, where this picture was made, but today's news proclaims him pretty much alive outside of office hours. His forthcoming marriage to Miss Doris Cross, 26 years old, was announced today. The senator is 71.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 13. (AP)—Announcement that Senator William Gibbs McAdoo, 71-year-old former secretary of the treasury, would be married soon to Miss Doris Cross, 26-year-old public health service nurse, was made here today at his office.

The announcement confirmed an earlier statement of Miss Mary Addison Ingle of Washington, a friend of Miss Cross, that the couple would be married soon.

In San Diego, Calif., Mrs. Nellie Cross, mother of the bride-to-be, announced the pair will be married at 4 p. m. tomorrow, in a private ceremony in the home of the senator's daughter in Washington. Miss Cross lived in San Diego before taking her nurse's training in Santa Barbara.

The California senator could not be reached immediately for explanations as to where the romance began. His associates appeared surprised at the announcement, saying he had been seldom seen with Miss Cross.

Miss Cross was shown on her records at the public health service here to have been born and reared in Santa Barbara, Calif.

The senator has been married twice before. His first wife, whom he married nearly 50 years ago, was Miss Sarah H. Fleming. Following her death, the senator married Eleanor Wilson, daughter of President Wilson. The second Mrs. McAdoo obtained a final decree of divorce last year in California.

At Senator McAdoo's request, Miss Cross was given a special appointment in the public health service, a little more than two years ago.

$57,500,000 Plan Will

Year, Is Claim

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 13. (AP)—The California railroad commission acted quickly today to approve a $57,500,000 refinancing plan whereby Southern California Edison Company estimates it can reduce its annual fixed charges more than $1,000,000.

The greatest saving to the company—and one that will cut into the high-interest bearing preferred stocks of California investors' portfolios—will come on the retirement of $23,950,725 par value of outstanding 7 per cent preferred stock. The redemption will be at the rate of $28.75 a share on the $25 par stock.

This will save, the company estimates, $912,527 annually for the life of the debentures.

HOPKINS GETS
'GO AHEAD'

Roosevelt Orders Six
Week Drive To Spend
$85,000,000 More

JOBS FOR 3,500,000

Bulk Of Remaining Cash
To Go For Temporary
Works Projects

HYDE PARK, N. Y., Sept. 13. (AP)—President Roosevelt announced orders today for the Works Progress administration under Harry L. Hopkins to take over the Works Relief drive until the permanent public works program of Secretary Ickes reaches a greater volume of employment.

In a detailed explanation of the whole works problem at his regular press conference today, the President related that yesterday's parole provided a program for the coming six weeks with $85,000,000 additional for direct relief—another reduction in this.

As for the contest between Secretary Ickes' Public Works plan and Harry Hopkins' temporary works idea, he said the problem was reduced to the proposition of dollars, men to be employed and the time for completion.

Peak Next June

He stated it was unlikely that the funds already allocated for permanent structures would reach a peak of employment before next June. Therefore, the gap must be filled in by temporary work under jurisdiction of Hopkins, he explained.

Because of this, Mr. Roosevelt said the bulk of the remaining $125,000,000 from the four billion fund to be spent in the next four months would go to temporary jobs.

This must be done, he asserted, if the objective of taking 3,500,000 from relief rolls is achieved by the November 1, 1936.

To Grant $200,000,000

Thus declaring for speed and for immediate temporary work, Mr. Roosevelt said he expected before departing on his trip to the Pacific coast that he would approve direct grants to states (Please Turn to Page 2, Col. 8)

Admiral Smith said action on the establishment of the third West Coast navy yard would have to be deferred until adequate appropriations were available.

Hughes' Plane After Dead-Stick Landing

The mystery ship in which Howard Hughes made an unofficial world's speed record at the Irvine ranch today, is shown here after he made a forced landing in a beet field north of Eddie Martin's airport. Mr. Hughes made a perfect "dead stick" landing after his motor failed on a speed test flight. The propeller blades were badly bent, but there was no other visible damage and the millionaire oil man and movie producer was unhurt. Mr. Hughes is shown in the picture at the right. His greatest speed today was 353 miles per hour, while the world's record is 314 miles per hour.

President Roosevelt's decision in the Harry Hopkins-Secretary Ickes' tilt over work relief program policies will not hold up construction of the Orange county water project, even though the decision favors small programs, in the opinion of Supervisor Willard Smith.

Mr. Hopkins and the President favor projects which will put men to work immediately. The Orange county project is ready to go at a moment's notice and therefore should fit right into the new scheme of things, Supervisor Smith said.

Mr. Hopkins said today that with the Ickes-Hopkins controversy settled, the federal allotment board should be expected to meet soon. The Orange county project, already approved by army engineers, is now before the allotment board. It has not met since the recent death of Mrs. Ickes, wife of Secretary Ickes, but observers here are of the opinion that its meetings have been deferred pending the outcome of the Hopkins-Ickes clash.

The two officials had been in disagreement because Mr. Ickes favored large construction projects and Mr. Hopkins favored smaller ones which could be launched immediately. Both men are factors in determining the work program policies.

353 M.P.H. IS

OIL MAN

Craft Grounded Near Martin Airport By
Gas Line Fault

RICH PILOT UNHURT

Aeronautical Official
Clocks Tests Made
Early Today

By ROCH BRADSHAW

A roaring silver bullet with stubby wings zoomed low to the ground over the Irvine ranch and carried Howard Hughes, 34-year-old millionaire oil man and movie producer, to a new world's speed record for land planes early today. His top mark was 353 miles an hour. Immediately afterward the mystery ship motor faltered and died. Hughes provided a second thrill by setting the ship "on its belly" for a perfect landing in a beet field two miles north of the Eddie Martin airport. Shortly afterward Amelia Earhart, one of the observers, arrived and smiled her admiration.

Officials and observers rushed to the spot to find Mr. Hughes had climbed from the cockpit unhurt. The ends of the propeller blades were bent almost double. There was no other visible damage. Officials said the perfect landing was a miracle for a high speed ship.

Lock in Gas Line

"I began to lower the retractable landing gear and it was about half way down when I hit the ground," said Hughes. "As I started over the course my first gasoline supply was exhausted. I turned on the other tank but the motor wouldn't take it. I think there was an air lock in the line."

Mr. Hughes' tests this morning were a surprise. He had been zooming over the three-kilometer course near the Martin airport yesterday afternoon, but failed to make the four straight record-breaking flights necessary to get an official rating.

Shortly before 7 a. m. today, however, he was back. He shot the silver bullet over the course seven times, breaking the record in each case. The world mark has been held by Raymond Deltombe of France, at 314 miles per hour.

'LONGISM STILL REGNS,' CRIES WOMAN Foe OF DEAD SENATOR

LONG'S AIDES READY TO BARTER

Steps To Smooth Over Troubled Waters Of State Are Hinted

BATON ROUGE, La., Sept. 13. (AP)—Lieutenants of Huey P. Long were reported ready today to barter with the national administration to smooth some of the troubled waters left by the death of the state's dictator.

There were many rumblings of discontent among those who had sat close to the throne and these had to be eliminated.

"Long is dead but Longism still lives," Mrs. Hilda Phelps Hammond, chairman of the Women's committee of Louisiana, said.

"In Louisiana absolute tyranny still reigns," she declared. "The cruel, shackling laws still stand upon the statute books and corruptionists are still in control, while in Washington Longism lives on in the fraudulent title of John H. Overton in this seat in the senate of the United States."

"The Fight Goes On"

"The battle of the Women's Committee of Louisiana has always been based on principles, not personalities. That fight goes on."

As a crowd estimated at from 100,000 to 200,000 looked on, Senator Long was buried in front of the capital yesterday afternoon.

Senator Long, before he was fatally wounded by a bullet fired from the gun of Dr. C. A. Weiss, Jr., had his willing legislature pass laws which aroused the ire of the Roosevelt administration and which cut off the flow of millions of dollars of federal funds into Louisiana.

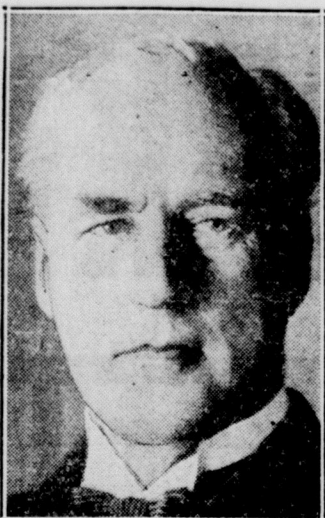

One issue was income tax investigations. Several persons close to Senator Long politically have been indicted for income tax violations and the returns of the senator have been investigated.

With the senator dead and the importance of his political dictatorship a question of doubt the government's investigation in the income tax cases was being watched.

Senator Long left no one who could step into his shoes. He would allow no one in his organization that was not subservient to him. His word was law in Louisiana.

Since his death his leaders are: O. K. Allen, the governor;

BELEM, Brazil, Sept. 13. (AP)—Radio as a campaign device proved doubly profitable to Annibal Duarte, recently elected to the Para state legislature and then unseated. He sandwiched violin solos into his radio appeals to voters and now is consoling himself for the loss of his office by devoting all his time to violin broadcasts.

Seymour Weiss, his political treasurer; Allen Ellender, his speaker of the house of representatives; George Wallace, assistant attorney general and the man who wrote the dictatorial laws for Senator Long, and some few others.

Behind a curtain of silence drawn around the statehouse, the divergent interest and ambitions of Long's followers created an impression of confusion in their ranks, and foes of the Long machine seized the opportunity to begin their attack.

MORE ABOUT FAIR

ston's museum, the first show of its kind ever to show there was had "zip," Barnum's original "what is it." Of course "zip" was just a Pinhead from darkest Africa and wouldn't get much of a tumble now but in those days we packed them in every show.

"Girl shows? Say, I have talked in front of so many girl shows and announced the acts on the inside for so long that the only thing that impresses me now-a-days is a woman in a fur coat."

"I got me a girl show now and is it a honey? Say you heard about all the fuss they kicked up in San Diego about the girl shows in Gold Gulch, didn't you? Well, this show starts where that one stopped."

George slipped into the Barker role for a minute and told me, "On the inside you will see three beautiful models, fairest examples of the form divine, they will pose for you in beautiful and artistic poses, present living pictures of the works of some of the world's greatest painters."

"They will be there before you in the living flesh with all its symmetry and rosy beauty. This is not just a girl show but an exhibition arranged for the lovers of true beauty. But adults only will be admitted."

"Then there is Fifi, a little red-headed dancer that will hold you spellbound with her red hot numbers. Boy, every move is a picture and when she dances an old man of 70 will feel like a boy of 17 and a boy of 17 will bless the day he is born. Say that girl don't just dance with her feet, she dances with her hands, her feet, her head and every part of her body. Why, fellow, when she gets started, Fifi just quivers and shakes like a bunch of grapes. Mother's jelly on a cold winter morning. Come back when we are open for business and I'll prove it to you."

"Say, listen, guy, maybe you had better mention in your piece for the paper that the girls don't pose and dance entirely in the nude. You know how it is. But I'll tell you this, the models pose behind a gauze screen that complies with the law which requires the artists have a cloth covering and a strong light is used to reveal all their glorious beauty. Fifi wears a costume, too, when she dances, but a good doctor could take out her appendix without wrinkling a thread of the costume."

George is pretty proud of his show.

Everybody is happy at the fairgrounds. This year's exhibition is the biggest in the history of the annual event. There are more entries, higher class stock, finer fruits and a more beautiful setting for the display of the wealth of the southland than has ever been offered in the period. Los Angeles, Orange and Riverside counties have been conducting the fair. In fact, the exhibition this year exceeds all past efforts.

Jake Dyms is another happy kid on the midway. Jake runs the Ethiopian Knights, All-Colored Revue. A new girl joined the show recently and, according to Jake, she "wows them."

This new girl is Helen Harvey, a "snake hipper" from New Orleans. What do you mean, you don't know what a "snake hipper" is? Where you been all your life? A "snake hipper" is a dancer with swivels in her hips and ball bearings in her knees. She dances without ever taking her feet off the floor—if you get what I mean. Besides being a premier "snake hipper," Helen does a mean tap dance and sings.

I couldn't say much for the orchestra other than it plays loud. At the time the musicians were playing "Dinah Lee" but I didn't recognize the lady until Helen, a "high brown," Ruth, a chocolate colored gal, and Ruth, a whole crowd of coal black woman, went into their song. Then I recognized the words.

But boy, oh boy, when they started to dance!

Now, let's get into the atmosphere of the fair. Here are the hog barns and a load of atmosphere. There are hundreds of pigs—big pigs, little pigs and medium sized pigs. They range from the little pig sausage brand on up to premium ham size.

In barn number two, one of the pig guardians, nurses, chaperones, valets or whatever you call a man who takes care of pigs, has appropriated a pen in between two pens of choice Berkshire pigs and converted it into a bedroom. His bed was made on a pile of straw and other than the absence of a feeding trough it looked the same as the apartments of his neighbors.

I watched one of the pig tenders grooming a large Chester White boar for the show and believe it or not he was sprinkling rose scented talcum powder over Mr. Pig. Is that pig a big sissy or is he a big sissy?

I asked the beauty specialist what was the big idea. He said, "These are white pigs ain't they? Well, how you gonna keep 'em white without powder?" He said that before a white pig is taken into the show ring for judging he is scrubbed until his skin is pink as a baby's and the hair white as snow. Then the talcum powder is sprinkled on with a lavish hand and brushed into the hair. With his feet scrubbed and manured the pig is ready for the ring.

I went down to the barns where more than 700 race and show horses are housed. The show horses are away down at one end in the new barns, and guess what I found. In one stable there were

Further hearing of a suit started by William J. Gilmore to eject Miss Hattie Billman, 71-year-old Fullerton spinster, from her home was ordered continued until Oct. 10 by Judge A. Caminetti in superior court yesterday. The continuance was ordered after Miss Billman fainted in the courtroom.

Miss Billman had just been called to the witness stand when she fainted. Aid was summoned to revive the woman, but when she recovered she was too shaken to continue.

The woman, who has worked all her life as a housekeeper and domestic, according to her answer to the ejectment suit, had used her savings for the purchase of a modest little home in Fullerton. For more than five years she has lived in the house and continued her work. Like many others she felt the pinch of the depression but refused to sell her home.

Finally the situation became so desperate that she agreed to sell the property, which is said to be worth $1200, for $900. She was to receive $400 in cash and a $500 face value investment certificate in a mutual building and loan company in Fullerton.

It was not until after the agreement had been signed, according to Miss Billman, that she learned the certificate was worth only $325. She refused to surrender her home and the suit followed.

Officials and observers rushed to their cars and dashed to the scene, running across the best field to the grounded ship. Mr. Hughes was there, serious faced, but unhurt. He had little to say except that his motor refused to function after he switched to the second gas tank.

A guard immediately was placed around the $120,000 mystery plane. Later today it was to be trucked back to the Grand Central airport at Burbank for repairs.

Not All Power Used

In yesterday's flights it was reported that Mr. Hughes only used 75 per cent of his power, but observers believed that the motor was nearer open than that.

Today the mystery ship lost as much as 10 miles per hour, it was estimated, because on the first test the hatch blew open and offered resistance to the wind.

William R. Enyart, official timer for the department of commerce, said he believed there would be no difficulty in having the speed records allowed by the National Aeronautical Association, the Fédération Aéronautique Internationale, which passes on world marks. Mr. Therkelsen said that in land plane speed tests the plane is not required to return to the field from which it took off.

Test Ruled Out

In yesterday's flights, Mr. Hughes first cruised 302 miles per hour, south, next he zoomed 346 miles per hour, south again, but the test was ruled out because he was reported to have dived into the course, which is against the rules; on his third flight he traveled 352 miles per hour, north, and on his fourth flight went 339 miles per hour, south.

In order to break the record a plane must make two flights each way, exceeding the mark on each flight.

One of the most interested observers was Dick Palmer, designer of the mystery ship, with a 1000 horsepower Wasp motor and a new wing curve. Mr. Palmer, like many other aviation leaders, is a young man of 32 or 33. Glenn Odekirk, shop superintendent at the Glendale airport where the ship was constructed, was another keen observer.

Manager Excited

J. B. Alexander, Mr. Hughes' manager, was the most colorful character on the ground. He jammed his hat on his head and jumped up and down yesterday when Mr. Hughes made his record breaking flight.

Today Mr. Hughes came back and forth across the course so rapidly that Mr. Alexander was jumping this way and that, placing signals on the ground to inform Hughes on his speed. Five strips of white cloth on the ground indicated 350 miles an hour—a strip for each 10 miles above 300.

Other officials on the test were Carl Leinesch, Herbert Shearer, Miss Earhart, Mr. Mantz, Mr. Therkelsen and Joe Nikrent.

How Speed Tested

An electric timing apparatus, with wires strung between the two ends of the three-kilometer course, clocked the speed. As the ship flashed across the entering and finishing lines, cameras recorded the fact. By checking the position of the plane on the plates, the officials will make an adjusted compilation on the speed. The variance will be from four to 10 miles per hour, but is expected to be closer to the lower figure.

Mr. Hughes believes his plane is capable of 365 miles an hour, the imminent war between Italy and Ethiopia was added a warning by the delegates from Great Britain's dominion of South Africa that an Italian invasion of Ethiopia might lead to racial trouble between the blacks and whites.

Charles Theodore Te Water, the delegate from the Union of South Africa, warned that "Africa will arise" in case of an Italo-Ethiopian war.

"My government," said Te Water, "and the whole people of my country, 'both black and white, view with deep concern and with the anxiousness born of the instinctive knowledge of consequences the slow but apparently relentless march of the disease of war into our continent."

"Let it never be forgotten—the long memory of black Africa never forgets and never forgives injury and injustice."

The South African delegate even hinted at the possibility his nation might withdraw from the league.

Italians Irritated

The irritation of the Italian delegate was gradually mounting.

"For 10 days we have been here now waiting for a real and serious examination of our accusations against Ethiopia," an Italian delegation spokesman said. "With what result?—A series of speeches full of insults, intimidations, and menace against Italy."

The Italian spokesman emphasized that he was not referring to Laval's speech which, he said, "after all was the only kind of speech the French premier could make."

Roosevelt in Accord With Hull's Views

HYDE PARK, N. Y., Sept. 13. (AP)—President Roosevelt today announced thorough endorsement of the appeal by Secretary Hull for adherence by the quarrelling countries overseas to the Kellogg Peace pact and expressed his concern over the situation.

Responding to questions at his regular press conference, the President made it clear that if war does break out abroad, this government is very definitely neutral by the recent act of congress declaring six months neutrality and embargo on arms.

Upon his return from the western trip, Mr. Roosevelt said he would re-check the whole program. Meanwhile, definite allocations are on a six weeks basis only.

Ickes and Hopkins left here late last night together for Washington, on friendly terms, but apparently with a six weeks period to prove their cases.

Life Earnings Put In Home

Further hearing of a suit started by William J. Gilmore to eject Miss Hattie Billman, 71-year-old Fullerton spinster, from her home was ordered continued until Oct. 10 by Judge A. Caminetti in superior court yesterday. The continuance was ordered after Miss Billman fainted in the courtroom.

Miss Billman had just been called to the witness stand when she fainted. Aid was summoned to revive the woman, but when she recovered she was too shaken to continue.

The woman, who has worked all her life as a housekeeper and domestic, according to her answer to the ejectment suit, had used her savings for the purchase of a modest little home in Fullerton. For more than five years she has lived in the house and continued her work. Like many others she felt the pinch of the depression but refused to sell her home.

Finally the situation became so desperate that she agreed to sell the property, which is said to be worth $1200, for $900. She was to receive $400 in cash and a $500 face value investment certificate in a mutual building and loan company in Fullerton.

It was not until after the agreement had been signed, according to Miss Billman, that she learned the certificate was worth only $325. She refused to surrender her home and the suit followed.

Officials and observers rushed to their cars and dashed to the scene, running across the best field to the grounded ship. Mr. Hughes was there, serious faced, but unhurt. He had little to say except that his motor refused to function after he switched to the second gas tank.

A guard immediately was placed around the $120,000 mystery plane. Later today it was to be trucked back to the Grand Central airport at Burbank for repairs.

Not All Power Used

In yesterday's flights it was reported that Mr. Hughes only used 75 per cent of his power, but observers believed that the motor was nearer open than that.

Today the mystery ship lost as much as 10 miles per hour, it was estimated, because on the first test the hatch blew open and offered resistance to the wind.

William R. Enyart, official timer for the department of commerce, said he believed there would be no difficulty in having the speed records allowed by the National Aeronautical Association, the Fédération Aéronautique Internationale, which passes on world marks. Mr. Therkelsen said that in land plane speed tests the plane is not required to return to the field from which it took off.

Test Ruled Out

In yesterday's flights, Mr. Hughes first cruised 302 miles per hour, south, next he zoomed 346 miles per hour, south again, but the test was ruled out because he was reported to have dived into the course, which is against the rules; on his third flight he traveled 352 miles per hour, north, and on his fourth flight went 339 miles per hour, south.

In order to break the record a plane must make two flights each way, exceeding the mark on each flight.

One of the most interested observers was Dick Palmer, designer of the mystery ship, with a 1000 horsepower Wasp motor and a new wing curve. Mr. Palmer, like many other aviation leaders, is a young man of 32 or 33. Glenn Odekirk, shop superintendent at the Glendale airport where the ship was constructed, was another keen observer.

Manager Excited

J. B. Alexander, Mr. Hughes' manager, was the most colorful character on the ground. He jammed his hat on his head and jumped up and down yesterday when Mr. Hughes made his record breaking flight.

Today Mr. Hughes came back and forth across the course so rapidly that Mr. Alexander was jumping this way and that, placing signals on the ground to inform Hughes on his speed. Five strips of white cloth on the ground indicated 350 miles an hour—a strip for each 10 miles above 300.

Other officials on the test were Carl Leinesch, Herbert Shearer, Miss Earhart, Mr. Mantz, Mr. Therkelsen and Joe Nikrent.

How Speed Tested

An electric timing apparatus, with wires strung between the two ends of the three-kilometer course, clocked the speed. As the ship flashed across the entering and finishing lines, cameras recorded the fact. By checking the position of the plane on the plates, the officials will make an adjusted compilation on the speed. The variance will be from four to 10 miles per hour, but is expected to be closer to the lower figure.

Mr. Hughes believes his plane is capable of 365 miles an hour,

BUMBLE BEES KEEP STEP WITH TRADE; HAVING BIG YEAR

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 13. (AP)—California bumble bees, keeping in step with the rest of business, are making a banner year out of 1936, producing greater quantities of honey than in 1934, although prices are somewhat lower.

H. M. Krebs, apiary entomologist of the state department of agriculture, said conditions have been satisfactory generally for substantial production in the summer months.

The exceptions are in the San Joaquin valley, where honey output will be lower than last year, and in the northern part of the Sacramento valley, affected by the failure of manzanita bushes to bloom as usual.

and municipalities totaling $200,000.

This is to be matched on a basis of 55 per cent by the communities, making a total of about $425,000,000 for local projects.

In addition, he said the Public Works administration is under orders to ascertain immediately what projects already authorized are not being pushed. These are to be cancelled and the funds are to be used elsewhere. This is expected to provide an additional $220,000,000.

Edge to Hopkins

All in all, it looked like the President in his work speed orders gave the edge to Harry Hopkins with a chance to Secretary Ickes to get his program done by the Dec. 15 deadline.

Upon his return from the western trip, Mr. Roosevelt said he would re-check the whole program. Meanwhile, definite allocations are on a six weeks basis only.

Ickes and Hopkins left here late last night together for Washington, on friendly terms, but apparently with a six weeks period to prove their cases.

POSTMASTER IN A DITHER FIND MISSING MAN ALIVE

Postmaster A. H. Whittaker of Anaheim is in a predicament. He is faced with the problem of returning property to the government, and there isn't much of the property left.

The postmaster's queer situation is due to termites. It is the practice of postoffices to obtain sheets of 40 postcards, which are held for public utilities who use the large sheets for printing their bills to be sent to consumers.

A box containing 10,000 of these cards was left on the postoffice floor. Termites bored through the floor, through the box, and ate most of the postcards, valued at $100.

So the question is, how is Postmaster Whittaker going to return the eaten property to the government for a refund?

GARDEN GROVE.—Action endorsing the proposed $6,620,000 county flood control and water conservation bond issue was taken at a regular meeting of the Garden Grove Farm Center last night.

Members approved a resolution endorsing the bond issue, commending county supervisors for calling the election and authorizing a committee to aid in getting out voters on election day.

Dr. D. D. Waynick of Anaheim, one of several speakers on the program, visualized Santa Ana, Fullerton and Anaheim as "ghost cities" if rural areas of the county are allowed to dry up through lack of irrigation. He explained that, although the cities have arranged for Metropolitan Water district water, they are dependent on the outside areas for a large percentage of their prosperity.

Dr. Waynick pointed out that there is a definite flood hazard in the county, that there is a definite need for water conservation, due to an "overdraft" of 40,000 acre-feet per year and that plans prepared by army engineers are ample to care for needs of the county.

Army engineers have now set up a 10-month schedule for completion of the proposed work, with use of 5000 unemployed men, not from the army, during the period. M. M. Thompson, resident engineer, said. All work would be started at the same time and each project would have its own allotment, he added.

William Mauerhan, member of the board of directors of the Orange County Water district, also spoke in favor of the plan, pointing out need of regulating flow of the Santa Ana River. Edward Chaffee, Garden Grove pioneer, also favored the project, telling of arroyos which have transformed the county from a desert to a highly cultivated area in the early 80's.

Supervisor Willard Smith told of action taken by the board of supervisors in calling the bond election.

Brick Dust

By BRICK GAINES

A larger crowd than usual was waiting to see the train go through Placentia yesterday. Investigation revealed that there was a reason. It was the new Santa Fe streamlined diesel creation.

They waited and waited and waited. Finally, just when everyone was getting bored and ready to go home, a low whistle was heard, apparently about a mile away.

Then the train was gone. That really was just about as much as any Placentian saw of the speedy equipment. An enveloping roar, a huge cloud of dust which almost covered the business district, and the newest train had passed. Some estimated its speed at 75 miles an hour. Others higher and others lower, but we can say that it was fast.

The only view that could be obtained was when the huge streamlined business was approaching. A brilliant tan coat of paint and certain streamlining effects. A hand waving from a window. Then the roar of the passing train and a good dust bath. Seemed like the engineer pulled his whistle cord and before the sound had a good start, the train was through the town.

Yep, we're wondering the same thing. What'd happen if the family chariot stalled in front of THAT train?

Congressman Sam Collins' own day at the Fullerton Round Table (Chiselers) club yesterday was a decided failure.

With dozens of potential victims, President Harry Suters let one of the most wonderful opportunities in his career as head of the group slip. No one bought cigars.

Harry had two superior court judges, a coroner, a county engineer and a surveyor, an assemblyman, a district attorney and lots of other brands of officials gathered around him, and they all got away!

With some indignation, Congressman Collins denied stories that he had fallen from his horse while hunting the deer which was reported to be in the stew served the Chiselers.

The real story was that, while returning with the slain animal, the congressional horse slipped and fell. He merely stepped from the prostrate beast, Congressman Sam claimed, but in getting clear he fell, thereby bruising his hand. Cowboys with the party investigated and decided that, although the congressman was worth saving, they'd have to shoot the horse.

Seems to be some rivalry between the Fullerton club and one recently formed in Placentia, with Warren M. Bradford reported head of the infant organization.

Ed Beck suggested a meeting of the two groups in Placentia. Some unkind soul wanted to know if they could hold the joint session in Placentia's new school, which was greeted with roars of laughter. Placentia withdrew from the Fullerton school district some time ago and since then has been trying to build a school, therefore the guffaws from the Fullertonites.

Howard Irwin made one of the shortest speeches on record at the gathering. He was asked to talk. He got out seven words and was stopped and thanked by the president. The last three words were accompanied by the tinkle of falling silverware throughout the room. A peculiar Round Table custom.

Fullerton.—Members of the Fullerton Round Table ate venison yesterday.

Congressman Sam Collins, founder and first president of the organization, killed the deer, he said. About 100 members from all points in the county were present to enjoy the meal. Many did enjoy it after President Harry Suters announced that, as election time is some months away, no county officials would be "chiseled" for cigars.

As guest of honor, Congressman Collins told of his deer hunt and of the annual custom of furnishing a meal each year for the club. He also told members of meetings with Huey Long, who he said was very genial and a different person than sometimes pictured in newspapers. "He expressed radical ideas to get publicity, but as to his own ideas, I know nothing," Mr. Collins said. As a man, I respect his passing.

Many county officials were introduced, but few allowed to speak, due to a shower of silverware on the floor each time someone arose to talk. An attempt to install the new grange heads was abandoned.

READY MADE WIFE

BY CORALIE STANTON

SYNOPSIS: Laurie is to marry her employer, Mark Albery, because Albery has threatened otherwise to ruin the career of Rex Moore, whom Laurie loves. Rex misunderstands, and in a huff has asked Wanda Steele to marry him. Now Laurie learns that her younger sister, Gladys, a dancer, is running around with Jimmy Dallas, and that old Lord Dagenbury, Jimmy's father, is about to make a fuss about it.

Chapter 41
DECEIT

When she got back to her little flat, Laurie's anxious mind was suddenly illumined by memory, which put the finishing touch to her misery.

That odious anonymous letter had said that Gladys was going about with a "swell young man," and going to his rooms at night. That would fit young Dallas.

And—another flash of memory—the first time Laurie had spoken to her about the gold cigarette case, Glad had said the young man's name was Jimmy Smith. And later on she had said that the young man of the anonymous letter was the same one.

Then it must be Jimmy Dallas! It had been all the time. And now people were saying that he was carrying on with a chorus girl. His father had heard it. He would make enquiries, and Glad's name would be dragged in the mud.

It was intolerable. Gladys was still away. The troupe had gone further afield than Guildford. Next week they were going to rest, but the following week they were booked up again, and there was no chance of seeing Glad.

And then came the climax. Unable to put her mind to anything, wanting nothing to eat, Laurie walked about the little flat like a caged animal.

She tried to divert her thoughts. That arm-chair cover was getting very shabby. She must make a new one. She examined the cover, and then began to pull it off. It was faded and beginning to tear at the arms, not worth mending.

A little handkerchief, rolled up in a ball, was between the seat and the back of the chair. Gladys', no doubt. She was terribly untidy and forgetful.

It cracked, as Laurie shook it out, and a piece of paper fell out. A crumpled up envelope.

Laurie read an address with staring eyes.

J. Dallas, Esq.,
2, Belmont Place,
St. James',

Glad's handwriting!

Laurie's fears were now a certainty. It was true. Great tears fell down her cheeks. Glad was meeting young Dallas secretly, writing to him. This envelope had not been posted. She had probably been disturbed while writing, and had hidden it away in her handkerchief, and then forgotten all about it, or thought she had lost it.

Perhaps Glad was unhappy under her careless brightness. If she was deeply in love with Jimmy Dallas, she must be unhappy. Perhaps she wept when she was alone, and suffered cruelly. Laurie felt that Dallas was the kind of a man who would inevitably make women suffer if they loved him.

Glad didn't know. Glad was so very young.

Laurie acted on one of her impulses. They had always been inexplicable at the moment, but they had shaped her life, and no power on earth could have prevented them. She knew that subconsciously.

She looked at the clock. It was 7. A young man about town might be in his rooms at that hour, before he went out to spend the evening.

She put her hat on and hurried out of the house, and hailed the first taxi she saw, giving the driver Jimmy Dallas' address.

It was a big, old-fashioned building, facing a narrow passage that led into the Green park. A set of apartments with service, much used by wealthy visitors to London. Mostly foreigners.

In the marble-floored vestibule she found nobody. But there was a board with the names of the tenants inscribed on it. Jimmy Dallas lived on the fourth floor.

Laurie ignored the lift, and walked up. She rang the bell of a handsome mahogany door, and a moment later the young man himself opened it.

"Cheerio, Dick!" he exclaimed, and then, seeing Laurie, looked none too pleased. He wore a many-colored dressing gown over his evening trousers and shirt. There was no recognition on his face.

"Mr. Dallas, I want to speak to you for a few minutes," Laurie said breathlessly. "I am Mrs. Rex Moore. I met you at Fen Gretton a little while ago."

"Please come in," he invited with his provoking, faun-like smile. "This is rather puzzling. I can't remember—"

"I am also Mr. Albery's secretary," she added, as he rather unwillingly showed her into his ultra-modern living room, which was perfectly hideous in her eyes. "My sister and I were spending the week-end."

"Oh, yes!" His light voice was vague. "Is there anything I can do for you, Mrs. Moore?"

"There is," she faced him, looking straight into his eyes, so alluring to most women. "Mr. Dallas, you have been meeting my sister secretly. I want to ask you not to do it any more."

"Your sister, Mrs. Moore? There must be some mistake," Jimmy was evidently prepared.

"No, Mr. Dallas. I saw you with Gladys in a taxi in Piccadilly Circus—on Sunday night a week ago. My sister denied it, but I saw you, and I know that she writes to you. And that you met her first in Manchester and Liverpool, and have given her expensive presents. My sister will deny everything. I know. I suppose you have told her to. But I want to ask you—are you going to ask her to marry

NEW MINISTER WELCOMED

More than 125 members of the Church of the Nazarene welcomed their new pastor, the Rev. L. D. Meggers and Mrs. Meggers and children, Don and Joyce, at a dinner and reception last night in the church school building.

Mrs. Esther Bottorff, W. A. Culbertson, Miss Hazel Newman, Mr. and Mrs. Al Lounsbury, Mr. and Mrs. L. S. Sharp and W. A. Wilcox were the committee in charge.

A big electric sign said welcome to the Meggers family. Pink flowers used with candles on the table were later given to the honored group.

N. E. Owens gave the invocation and benediction. J. L. Sharar, Sunday school superintendent, welcomed the pastor. In his response, the Rev. Mr. Meggers stressed his ideal of community service. Mrs. Meggers also spoke.

"The Old Family Album" was staged with Miss Lois Detweiler as narrator, by Lydia Katz as Mrs. Mary Pinnix; Merlin Swafford as Merlin Swafford; L. S. Sharp and Arlene Westhous as Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Sharar; Cecil Kinsey and Doris O'Brien as Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Wilcox; J. Parker Wilson as W. J. Julian; Alpha Gilbert as Nancy Shields; Faye Martin as Ray Dunham, and Florine Gilbert as herself.

Group singing of hymns and a benediction closed the party.

Among the guests was Mrs. Belle Humphrey, wife of the late Rev. L. H. Humphrey, former missionaries to Japan and later pastor of the local church, who celebrated her seventy-fourth birthday anniversary recently.

NEW RESIDENCE OF VISEL STUDIOS OPENED AT TEA

Formal opening of the new residence of the Visel studios, 425 West First street, occasioned a tea and program for more than 300 guests Wednesday afternoon, under direction of Holly Lash Visel and Carolyn Haughton.

Co-hostesses were Mrs. Newell Moore, Miss June Arnold, Miss Joy Dowsett, and Miss Dorothy Mayhew.

At the tea table, centered with maiden hair fern and tall tapers, were Mrs. D. K. Hammond, Mrs. R. C. Harris, Mrs. Edward Powers, and Mrs. Arthur May, pouring at the tea urns.

Assisting in the serving were Mrs. Malcolm Macurda, Mrs. Carolyn Wells, Miss Ione Hooven and Miss Lois Newbold. Betty Ellen Mitchell, Carolyn Wells, and Irma Jean May acted as pages. Mrs. J. H. Allen of Pasadena and Mrs. Orville Northrup assisted with arrangements.

On the afternoon's program were readings by Beth Mitchell, Jeannette Bodeman, Barbara La Marr Danker, Wanda Marie Goode, and Doris Lorraine Faupel. Margaret Pimental, accompanied by Mrs. Margaret Davies, gave a group of vocal solos. Piano solos were presented by Audrey Harrell, Billy Haughton, Betty Jane Sanborn, Donald Watson, Virginia Adams, and Betty Woodruff.

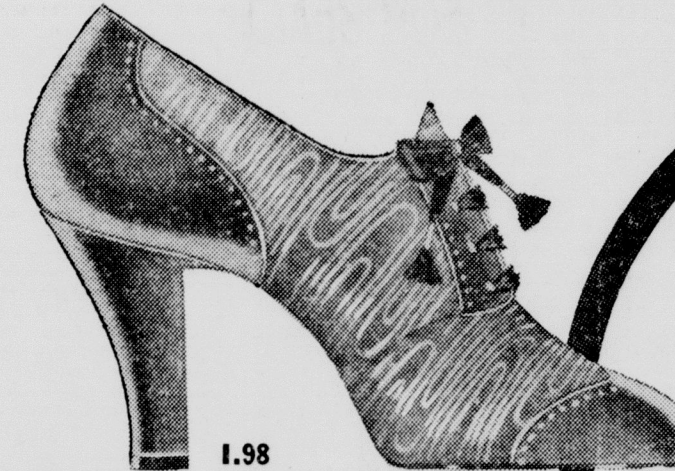

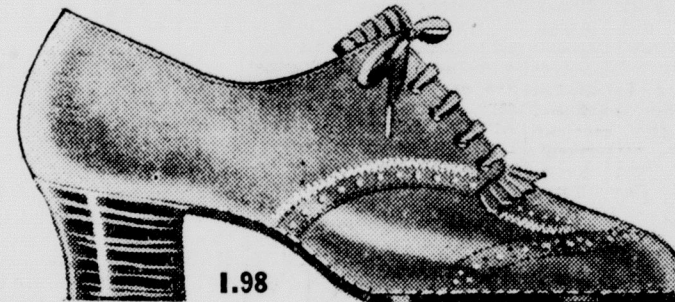

Baskets of dahlias and zinnias in fall colors decorated the house. A school for cultural arts and friendly social relationships, the new residence offers a location for instruction in play production, private readings, dancing, social culture and children's chorus, voice and dramatic arts, and piano and harmony. A spacious garden in the rear of the house is to be the setting of the nursery school under Mrs. Moore.

STOCKS COME BACK WITH INCREASES

Indications Of Continued Business Recovery Aid Market Situation

By VICTOR EUBANK

NEW YORK, Sept. 13. (AP)—The stock market came back today clinging to the skirts of mining and metal issues.

Although activity was not pronounced and selectivity was noted throughout the list, the renewed strength in the silver and copper groups helped to revive the lagging spirits of bullish forces.

The confusing European war situation was said to have kept some traders on the sidelines, but signs of continued economic recovery at home tended to obviate excessive bearishness.

Shares of U. S. Smelting got up more than 3 points and other gainers of fractions to a point or more included American Smelting, Cerro de Pasco, Kennecott, Anaconda, Delaware & Hudson, Great Northern, Santa Fe, Schenley, U. S. Industrial Alcohol, Western Union, American Telephone, U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Chrysler, General Motors, Westinghouse, American Can and Continental Can.

The distinctly firmer trend in the metal equities was accounted for in the commission houses partly by the fact that these issues have been behind the market and have even slipped back when other divisions advanced.

Overnight consideration of the announcement that the J. P. Morgan banking syndicate would auction off the collateral of the Van Sweringen brothers, and that the latter had arranged for sufficient cash to bid in their securities and thus preserve their railroad empire, proved interesting but not exciting to market circles.

New York Stocks

NEW YORK, Sept. 13. (AP)—Metal and mining issues were strong in today's stock market, and most other groups rallied.

U. S. Smelting spurred about 3 points at one time, and gains of 1 or 2 or more were scattered throughout the list. Advances were shaded in the last hour of profit taking. Trading was generally quiet, however, transfers approximating 1,750,000 shares. The close was firm. Closing prices:

COLTRIN CASE WILL GO TO HIGH COURT

With his appeal turned down by the fourth district court of appeals, Dr. Francis D. Coltrin, Fullerton physician, recently convicted of performing an abortion and second degree murder, has been granted a hearing before the state supreme court, according to Sharpless Walker, attorney for Dr. Coltrin.

On petition of Dr. Coltrin the case was ordered transferred from the appellate court to the supreme court, Mr. Walker has been notified. The hearing date, however, has not been set.

Following his conviction and sentence of from one to 10 years on the first count and from 11 years to life on the second, and his motion for a new trial denied, an appeal was taken to the district court of appeals in San Diego. In a decision handed down last month the higher court sustained the trial court's judgment with Judge E. J. Marks dissenting as to the right of the court to sentence Dr. Coltrin for two crimes involving the same facts.

In the petition to the supreme court for a transfer hearing and determination of the case in that court Mr. Walker cited as grounds for the appeal that evidence of separate offenses was erroneously admitted at the trial; that the court erred in refusing to require the district attorney to furnish the defendant with the copy of the "death statement" of Charles Valentine; that an erroneous instruction was given the jury, and that prejudicial comment was made by the jury after the members had failed to agree on the verdict.

CHOOSE SIDES! BAER AND LOUIS TELL ALL

Just as the second-guessing is nearing a peak about the Baer-Louis game on Sept. 24, we present the latest attitudes of both camps. Both viewpoints, obviously, are designed to make you feel that Max and Joe both feel they will dispose of the other quite early and without the least bit of trouble.

From the Louis camp: Joe maltreated a couple of sparring mates yesterday and then decided to take a day off and go to New York to watch the Detroit Tigers take on the Yankees. "If Baer tries to crowd me I'll do just what I did to those two sparring partners," he offers. "One other guy did that once. I kept slipping punches, moving back in on him. Pretty soon I hit him a couple times. He didn't crowd me after that. I guess Baer'll be about the same."

From the Baer camp: Max definitely has achieved some endurance in his comeback attempt; they say he steps speedily all three minutes of every round and has been doing it daily for nine or 10 rounds. He thinks he'll do away with Joe much sooner than that.

Max has a good camp, they say. It is situated far back in the woods about five miles from the village of Speculator, N. Y., and only daily he drives to the village for a public workout and then is hustled back to the forest before any evil can befall him. Mrs. Max lives in the village and sees her handsome hubby only once each day—for dinner.

There isn't even a radio in camp because Max's manager, Anell Hoffman, turned it down. Papa and Mama Baer are in camp and Papa keeps the car key under his pillow at night—which may be one of the reasons Max hasn't left the reservation since map was picked.

Max's day starts at 6 a. m. when he does six miles of roadwork around the lake. Then breakfast. . . two hours of wood-chopping and some canoeing. . . lunch and a nap. . . workout in Speculator and dinner at 5 p. m. . . bedtime at 9 o'clock sharp.

Somehow, with Popper and Mommer Baer keeping things in shape, that Baer camp might be harboring the guy who will knock one Mr. Joe Louis into early winter about Sept. 24.

WHAT'S THIS? YES, WE ONLY HEARD!

It wasn't told to us, but we heard that, correcting a generally known impression, Tiger Clinton will only p. a. the boxing matches and make suggestions for bouts. . . Promoter Sam Sampson will do the work of signing the boys, aided by veteran "Pop" Andres. . . Doc Steffler, longtime foe of wrestling, is out. . . That Los Angeles, not Hollywood, will train at Fullerton next year.

That Fullerton folks are planning a gala homecoming for Floyd Arky Vaughan, heaviest hitter in major baseball this year. . . also that Pepper Martin is slated to steal "the most valuable player" vote from Vaughan.

That Al Reboin is the man the Stars can thank if they come through to win the pennant. . . In fact, he is the one to thank for the success of the team to date. . . a heady player, he runs things when working behind the plate that do much to carry Jim Coates along the road to victory. . . ROSS FAVORED OVER GARCIA

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 13. (AP)—Hard punching Ceferino Garcia, the "Filipino Jack Dempsey" of the spectacular coast record, will meet Welterweight Champion Barney Ross of Chicago here tonight in a 10-round non-title battle. The stocky Chicago boy is expected to enter the ring a 3 to 1 favorite.

LITTLE LEADING GOODMAN AT HALF WAY

DENNEY NINE CAPABLE OF VICTORY

Play-Offs With Colton Of American League Slated Next Week

"Deadlock the series and you will annex the championship." That's what the railbirds are whispering to Santa Ana's Stars, who can prolong the National Night Ball league play-offs with another startling upset over Joe Rodgers' 1934 champions in the sixth game inside Huntington Beach's spacious park at 8:15 tonight.

May Overthrow Oilers
Many of those who have viewed Santa Ana's spectacular rise in the past three chapters of the entertaining series reasonably expect them to overthrow the Oilers if they meet a seventh time here Monday night.

To receive a 50-50 chance in what would be a grand finale, Santa Ana must come through at Huntington Beach tonight. Since 1933 the Stars have received nothing but defeats—eight of them—on the Oiler diamond, where the Oilers seem to function the smoothest and the Stars the poorest.

Louie Neva and Jimmy Coates, of course, will be the mound rivals. Neva, who has fanned 54 to Coates' 41 during the big show, has yielded 10 more hits than Santa Ana's slender marvel, 54 to 44. Neva has walked nine—five purposely—while Coates has issued eight free tickets to first.

Series With Colton
If the Oilers retain their championship laurels with victory tonight, they will open the annual Southern California play-offs with Colton's Reds at Colton next Tuesday. If Santa Ana wins, thereby delaying the selection of a National league representative until Monday, the series with Colton probably will not get under way until a week from tonight.

Keeping in trim for its meeting with the National league representative, Colton will play the Arlington All-Stars at Evans park in Riverside tonight.

S. C. GRID WORK DUE SATURDAY

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 13. (AP)—Southern California's three major intercollegiate football squads—University of California at Los Angeles, Loyola and the University of Southern California—died off their grid armor today, pose for pictures and prepare generally for the opening of practice season tomorrow.

Southern California, once one of the strongest teams in the country, will be blessed with an army of approximately 100 players as the Trojans under Coach Howard Jones attempt to beat their way back into the national picture.

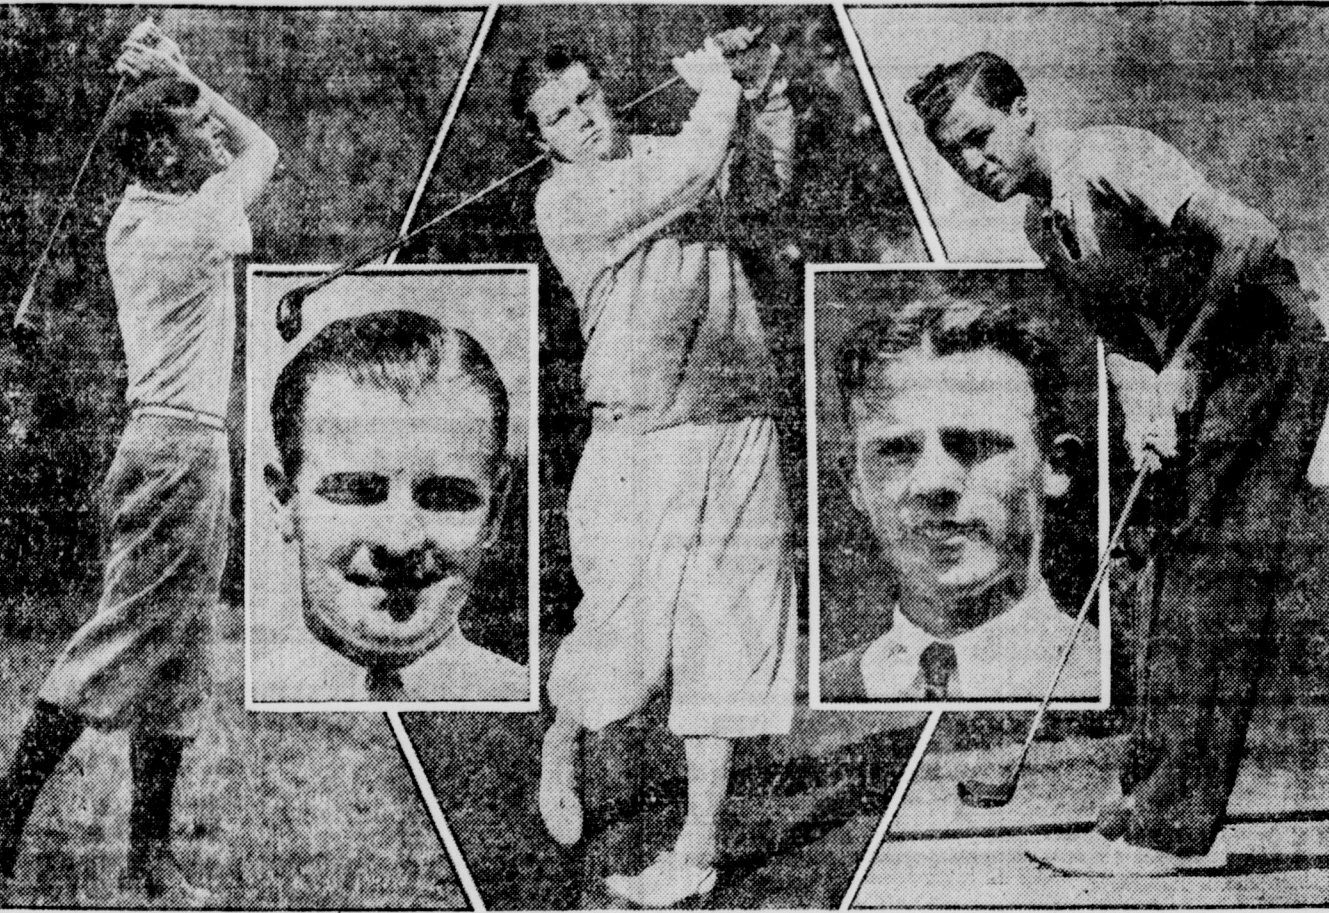

Next in size will be little Loyola's team coached by Tom Lieb, who has a pair of intersectional contests on his schedule this season. The Lions will parade out, 60 strong.

WASHBURN TO FACE DUSEK

The first no-holds-barred-to-a-finish wrestling match ever held at the Orange County Athletic club was signed yesterday afternoon by Promoter Sam Sampson when he paired Boston Jack Washburn, the 234-pound former policeman, to meet tough guy Ernie (Dirty) Dusek.

Washburn and Dusek clash Monday night backed by a supporting cast which brings Sander Szabo, popular Hungarian champion, back here after several weeks' absence. Szabo draws Fred Carone, rough and tough Italian, in the special event.

LITTLE FAVORED TO HOLD NATIONAL AMATEUR GOLF TITLE

Lawson Little (center), U. S. national amateur golf champion and winner of the British amateur, remains unbeaten in his fight to retain his title in the national amateur tournament at Cleveland, but if he falls by the wayside, experts predict almost anything may happen. Among those most favored are Dave Goldman (left), of Dallas, last year's runner up; Johnny Goodman (inset, left), of Omaha, former Open champion who Little plays today; Albert Campbell (inset, right), of Seattle, twice Canadian amateur champion; and Willie Turnesa (right), outstanding eastern amateur. CRAWFORD IN SAINT GRID UNIFORM

Joe Crawford, burly tackle on Santa Ana High school's 1934 football squad, and Bob Reid, rangy letterman tackle, joined Coach Bill Foster's Saints in their workout at Poly field yesterday.

Crawford's appearance was a pleasant surprise, since it was announced last week that he had decided to pass up grid work this fall. Reid, who ranks with Jim (Red) Crowther as two of the Coast Preparatory league's best tackles, has just returned from a vacation in the East.

The preps were to scrimmage Santa Ana's junior collegians at Poly field this afternoon.

FIVE RACES ON AS FAIR OPENS

POMONA, Sept. 13. (AP)—Five running races and two pacing events of two heats each for a total of nine events will feature the opening program of the Los Angeles county fair here today.

In the harness events purses of $600 are posted for the 2:16 and 2:15 pace races. The stakes for the running races range from $300 to $400.

Saturday's schedule includes a free-for-all pace for some of the outstanding standard bred horses at the meeting. No running races are on Sunday's card, but stakes for the harness races range from $600 to $1000 for those days. Seventeen days of racing are on the schedule for the fair, which closes Sept. 28.

Sailor Boys Dominate As Hipps Wins Battle

By FRANK ROGERS

There weren't any marines around out the Orange County Athletic club last night so the sailors had to land and take the situation well in hand.

Four of Uncle Sam's fighting men came over to the local fight shop from the U.S.S. Pensacola and each of them went back with a victory—three by unusual knockouts in the second round and the fourth by a narrow decision.

Hipps Takes Win
Sailor Jack (Swivel) Hipps pounded out a close win over surprising Frankie Herrera. Los Alamitos light heavyweight, who definitely entered the ranks of the "coners." Displaying a long range right and a determined if awkward and unorthodox attack, Herrera pressed and the veteran tar all the way. In the second round Herrera pulled an "iron man" stunt, standing pat with arms akimbo and letting Hipps wear himself out by throwing his hardest punches. Hipps' long right sent him for a nine-count in the third, however, and that was exactly the margin of victory.

Sailor Dye took a second round technical knockout over Wilmington's Chet Smith. Smith wilted under a barrage of short punches and decided not to get up. Eddie Chapman, heading a group of five invaders from the Los Angeles Ebony club who won three and lost two, decided Los Alamitos' Benny Gomez in the special event.

Staggering old (29) Eddie Orozco went down under Sailor Bowen's whirlwind attack in the second. Orozco twice found himself cornered by a human whirlwind before he sunk for the count.

Sailor Kid Malo had a dainty dove tattooed above each ankle but apparently they were not symbols of gentility for the fourth of the fine tars put the Ebony club's Johnny Anderson down just as the bell ended the first round and then flattened his rival for the count with an in-fighting barrage.

Lee Brown, Ebony fighter, took a bloody decision from John Martinez, Artesia, in the third bout, while Tommy Pacheco won the nod in a wild second contest over Jack Roberts of the Ebony club. The fans liked Jimmy Merced of Placentia, but colored Willie Fields took the decision in the opener.

Frank Holborough was the referee.

DUCKS GAIN IN ALLISON HAILED FOR VICTORY

FOREST HILLS, N. Y., Sept. 13. (AP)—For years they've been calling Wilmer Allison the "tumbling Texan." But he stayed on his feet throughout the 54th men's national singles tennis championship, and today, with his feet still hugging the ground, he stands as king of American courts.

Allison gained the championship yesterday when he submitted Sidney B. Wood, Jr., of New York to a decisive straight set defeat with the loss of only seven games. After the way Allison thrashed Fred Perry of England on Thursday few anticipated he would have any trouble getting by his Davis cup teammate. He didn't.

Allison's victory in straight sets, 6-2, 6-2, 6-3, will go down on the records not only as one of the most popular, coming as it did after more than 10 years of intensive campaigning, but it ever will be a memorable one as he triumphed in the first joint holding of the men's and women's championships.

CARDS SHAKE GIANTS BUT NOT CUBS

By HUGH S. FULLERTON, JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

The swagging St. Louis Cardinals, saying it with base hits and the blinding speed and baffling curves of Dizzy Dean, have made their 1935 announcement that they're on the road to the National league pennant and they don't intend to be elbowed off—especially by the Giants.

They said that clearly yesterday when they trounced the Giants 5 to 2 in the opening clash of their highly important series, and while they have three chances to change their minds before the battle ends they have given no indication that they will.

Giants 4½ Games Behind
The result put the Giants 4½ games behind—where there was no chance of forging ahead of St. Louis during the current series, but it didn't shake off the Chicago threat to the Cardinal supremacy. The Cubs routed the Dodgers 13 to 3 with a heavy-hitting attack behind Lon Warneke and remained only one game behind St. Louis.

Detroit's Tigers took another step forward clinching the other world series berth by trimming the second place Yankees 5 to 1 in the opener of a somewhat less important series.

Lead by 8½ Games
The victory gave Detroit an 8½ game lead over the Yanks who were left as the only team with a possible chance to beat out the Tigers when Cleveland took a three-hit 3 to 0 whitewashing from the Senators and Earl Whitehill.

Pittsburgh's Pirates tossed in a couple of reserves against Philadelphia and won 11 to 0 with Jim Weaver's hurling.

ON LEGION CARD
HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 13. (AP)—A preliminary event to his appearance on the Baer-Louis fight card in New York, Hank Hankinson, Akron, O., heavyweight, meets Charles Massera of Pittsburgh in the 10-round main event at the Legion stadium tonight.

after more than 10 years of intensive campaigning, but it ever will be a memorable one as he triumphed in the first joint holding of the men's and women's championships.

Champion Creaks Par, Scoring 71

THE COUNTRY CLUB, CLEVELAND, Sept. 13. (AP)—Aided by an eagle three on the 512-yard 16th, Champion W. Lawson Little, Jr., cracked par with a 71 today and gained a two-hole lead over his Omaha rival and roommate, Johnny Goodman, in the first half of the 36-hole semi-finals of the U. S. Amateur Golf Tournament. The Oklahoma sharpshooter, and tournament's par cracking sensation, tall Walter Emery, hit some 15 holes short to become four up on Joseph Lynch, portly Bostonian and this year's Georgetown university golf captain, in the other semi-final duel.

60 HOPEFULS IN DON GRID RANKS SOON

Five More Join Cook's Squad For Workouts; More Due Monday

More than 60 prospects, the largest turnout in the history of the college, will have checked out football paraphernalia at Santa Ana Junior college by the opening of classes Monday, as indicated when five newcomers reported yesterday to swell the Don ranks to 53.

The latest recruits are Nelson Rogers, letterman tackle; Bill Dolan, lanky end; Burt Harding, Frank Pope and Ray Sides. A few prized catches are still missing, including Howard Rash, stocky guard from Santa Ana High school's championship team. Alvin Lamb, blond back from the 34 Saints, and Les Veltine, Orange's burly end.

Bolton Turns Tackle
Clarence Bolton, giant wingman from the 32 Saints, will be made over into a tackle, and DeForest Fee, a big tackle from Anaheim, will be revamped into an end.

Coaches Bill Cook and Al Reboin selected two teams yesterday and ran them through plays for the Pasadena game at the Municipal bowl a week from tonight.

Al Titensor, Saint regular, and Ana heim's Fee, ends; Bolton and Fred Pinkston, tackles; Bob Holmes, Tustin, and Les Minder, Anaheim, guards; and Harold Youel, letterman center, were in one combination, with Jack Wilson of Garden Grove and George Snokleburg of Wichita, ends; Ray Devine of Garden Grove and John Meyers of Anaheim, tackles; Art Craft of Orange and Nick DeSmet of Santa Ana, guards, and Bob Spray of Tustin, center, in the other.

The Dons were to engage in a light scrimmage with Bill Foote's Saints at Poly field today.

WETHERELL TO PLAY TODAY

Lewis Wetherell, Santa Ana men's tennis champion, was paired with Dr. Paul Brown at 2 p. m. today in one of 60 qualifying matches of the ninth annual Pacific Southwest tennis championships in Los Angeles. Wetherell will seek to enter the tournament proper, beginning Sunday.

The Misses Josephine Cruickshank and Marjorie Lauderbach, it is understood, will not have to qualify in the women's division because of a smaller number of entries.

FREE PAIR IN DEATH OF ACTRESS

Young Rogers and Friend Released Under Bond in Torch Singer Case

(Copyright, 1935, by Associated Press)
WEST CHESTER, Pa. Sept. 13. Henry Huddleston Rogers III, fingerprinted and under bond of $2500, was released today from the jail where he has been held since early Thursday in connection with the death of his farm home of the singing actress, Evelyn Huey. Freed with him was William J. Kelly, young freelance movie cameraman. Kelly, with Miss Huey, was a house guest at the farm, "Indian Run," when the shooting—now considered by investigators as probably suicide—occurred Wednesday evening.

Mother Arrives
Mrs. Benjamin Rogers, first wife of the late Standard Oil multi-millionaire, Col. Henry Huddleston Rogers II, and mother of young Rogers, was in town when her son, haggard, worn and extremely nervous, emerged, but she did not appear at the jail.

The bonds are to assure the presence of Rogers and Kelly at the inquest next Thursday night. There are no charges against either man.

Rogers was still wearing the farm clothes he had on Wednesday night when, after hours of drinking and quarreling, he was found, supported by two men, on the lawn of the farm house, in an upstairs bedroom of which the girl lay dead.

Fear Man's Suicide
His necktie and belt were taken from him last night following expressions of fear he might attempt to take his own life.

"Let me have a gun, so I can kill myself, too," he was quoted by Farmer Claude Battin as having said. Battin was present in the farm house when the shooting occurred.

The girl's parents, however, and many of her friends refuse to accept the suicide theory, despite the circumstances of the gun at her feet and the evidence that she was alone in the room at the time. The Hueys have engaged Morris Ernst, prominent New York criminal lawyer, to represent them.

A battery of counsel, headed by James W. Gerard, former ambassador to Germany, has been active in the interests of Rogers. Mrs. Henry J. Huey, mother of Evelyn, remains under the care of a physician at her New York apartment. Her husband, a St. Louis, Mo., druggist, flew in from the West today and is expected here from New York before night.

ENID, Okla., Sept. 13. (AP)—One and one-half hours after giving birth to a calf, Blossom's Dreaming Girl, Jersey cow, walked away with the title of grand champion cow at the Sooner state dairy show here.

An attendant had to accompany the cow around the show ring, carrying the calf near to the contestant could nuzzle it occasionally, as she paraded. The owner is R. W. McMillan, Enid.

Orange Park's Baseball Diamond Once Was Speed Course for Bike Racers

(This is the third of a series of articles having to do with the development of Orange's system of parks, potential beauty spots and recreational institutions of Southern California. The series is intended to be informative to those cities which do not enjoy park facilities. Santa Ana is listed in the latter classification.)

By ROCH BRADSHAW
The baseball diamond at the Orange municipal park is located on ground "hallowed" by the boys of 20 years ago. In 1914 or 1915, before boys had organized recreation to any extent, they built a bicycle race track in the Santiago creek bed where the soft ball diamond now lies.

Glenn Potter, now a football coach, earned his nickname of "Gowdy" Potter by his breath-taking speed around the short, oval course. It was banked on the turns at each end, and Gowdy used to make his friends' hair stand on end as he dashed around the course. He was nicknamed after a famous motorcycle racer named Gowdy.

The only unfortunate part about the sport was that Gowdy himself, as well as the other enthusiasts, often stood on end, too, or rolled over and over as they skidded around the curves. The race track proved a gold mine for the bicycle repair men.

STATE TO GO AHEAD WITH ROAD JOBS

Putting an end to fears of several communities that many projects included in the state highway budget for the current biennium would be dropped, Governor Frank Merriam announced today that the original program of the highway department would be carried out.

Fears were felt that projects would be dropped because of allocation of an additional quarter-million from gasoline tax funds to cities, but skilful revision of projects and economies effected in awards of contracts have made the entire program possible, it was announced.

Jobs Submitted
Jobs to be completed with federal funds have been submitted for approval, according to Earl Lee Kelley, director of public works, and cities which do not find their projects in the $26,498,980 state budget will probably see them built with federal money.

TRAIN WRECKER LOSES APPEAL FOR FREEDOM
LOS ANGELES.—Thomas Vernon, convicted train wrecker, remained in the penitentiary today, his appeal for freedom rejected by the district court of appeals.

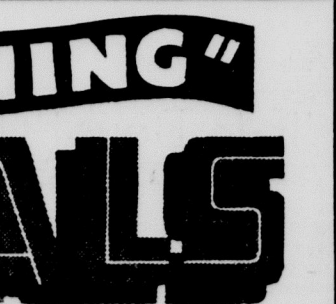

Vernon, admittedly an ex-convict, was found guilty of derailing the Southern Pacific West Coast limited near Saugus on Nov. 10, 1929.

His bid for release was based on a confession made by Jesse C. Ramsey, a Folsom prison inmate, that he committed the crime. Vernon claimed the confession he made was given under duress.

SEAMEN AWAIT NEW ANSWER

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 13. (AP)—Members of three Pacific coast maritime unions, seeking higher wages and improved working conditions, today waited for ship operators to reply to their new demand for conferences to be held to draft new agreements to supplant the ones that expire Sept. 30.

Off-shore operators, members of the recently organized Pacific American Shipowners association, previously had told the unions negotiations would not be entered into until five vessels now tied up in Pacific coast ports because of labor disputes had been released.

Ethiopia Knows No White Conqueror

NATION'S LONG HISTORY A CHRONICLE OF CONSTANT WARFARE

By CHARLES NORMAN
Associated Press Staff Writer
(Second in a Series)

Ethiopia, with "one foot in the Middle Ages and the other in the League of Nations," presents a vivid contrast to the rest of Africa.

Elsewhere on the Dark Continent the white man is respected as conqueror and modernizer; in the land of Emperor Haile Selassie the white man is neither conqueror nor builder, for he has been defeated there.

The history of Ethiopia, a chronicle of constant warfare, best explains its seemingly anomalous position in the twentieth century. A country almost continuously busy on the field of battle has found little time for progress and modernization.

Wars Were Many
It has fought and defeated the Arabians, Egyptians, Turks, Derivishes and neighboring races and tribes of every description—the Adels, Danakila, Gallas and others—and in modern times inflicted severe defeats on the Sudanese and Italians.

The Ethiopians have lived surrounded by enemies. They have seen a combination of great European powers take their ports and their coastline away, and have been cut off in this and other ways from the world and progress.

Their ships which centuries ago ploughed through the Red Sea and the Indian Ocean with their country's products, are now dim memories in the minds of the people.

Glory in Battle
But they have lost nothing of their pride in their independence and nothing of their prowess as warriors. If war comes, the fighting legions of Mussolini will find fighting men arrayed against them who glory in battle.

"The Abyssinian army," one British observer wrote, "is in effect practically the Abyssinian people, for with the exception of priests and monks every man is an actual or potential soldier—love of fighting is in his blood."

Today the priests have volunteered to fight.
If war comes in September, as some military experts predict, it will come at the end of the rainy season, which lasts from about mid-June to the end of September. The rains come suddenly and in torrents, making roaring streams out of roadbeds, and cease with suddenness, too.

GRAPE MARKET PACT OUSTED

WASHINGTON, Sept. 13. (AP)—The AAA announced today cancellation of the marketing agreement and license for fresh Tokay grapes grown in California, effective tomorrow.

A proposed agreement to replace that which was cancelled has been submitted to the farm administration by growers and shippers, the AAA said, with requests for a hearing. However, the AAA said, since the marketing season already has begun it would be impossible to develop a new agreement under the amended adjustment act in time for use this season.

NEWCOMB'S

For centuries Ethiopia has fought its battles for freedom from invasions by other African tribes or the soldiers of European nations. For centuries it clung to ancient traditions, even its soldiers refusing to recognize changing methods of warfare. But under Emperor Haile Selassie, the old order, represented by the "soldiers" pictured below, is passing. In its place is coming a modern fighting machine, typified by the two members of Ethiopia's air force seen above.

NEW TRAIN TO HELEN VINSON WEDS PERRY

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 13. (AP)—Test runs finished, the "Super Chief," speed king of the Santa Fe railroad, was being made ready today for a speed run from Los Angeles to Chicago.

The 3600-horsepower locomotive, drawing a standard train, arrived here yesterday after a 2225-mile trip from Chicago. Officials said no attempt was made to set a speed mark en route. The locomotive is powered by four Diesel engines. The engine is 127 feet long and weighs 240 tons.

RAISIN PACT IS ENDED BY AAA

WASHINGTON, Sept. 13. (AP)—Termination of a marketing agreement and license for packers of California raisins, effective tomorrow, was announced today by the AAA.

Members of the raisin control board have been designated as trustees to liquidate the board's affairs. The agreement and license, fixing minimum prices to be paid producers, became effective in May, 1934.

They were married in a midnight ceremony last night at Harpers, N. Y., by Justice of the Peace Leo Mintzer.

The marriage was Perry's first but the marriage document revealed that the movie actress was divorced from Harry Neilson Vickerman in Los Angeles.

Miss Vinson, a native of Beaumont, Tex., gave her age as 27. Perry said that he was 26.

In 1925, London boasted 20 "hackney coaches" which were kept at inns for hire.

PETITE FLIER NEARS MEN'S RECORD

Faulty Radio Compass Robs Woman Pilot Of Better Performance

NEW YORK, Sept. 13. (AP)—Petite Laura Ingalls today held the women's West-East transcontinental air non-stop record—a mark that the persistent flier had twice before attempted and failed.

Just before midnight she set her Lockheed-Orion monoplane down on Floyd Bennett field, 13 hours, 34 minutes and five seconds after leaving Los Angeles.

Seven minutes faster time and she would have tied the non-stop record for both men and women held by Frank Hawks. She might have turned the trick if her radio compass had been functioning.

It went out of commission, she said, just west of Columbus, O. Because it was not working she overshot Floyd Bennett field as far as Mitchell field, cruising to lose altitude, and then turned back to claim the record from Amelia Earhart Putnam.

From Los Angeles came congratulations from Miss Earhart to the new record holder and word that she did not intend to try to wrest the title back again.

The former vaudeville dancer who turned flier just after Lindbergh flew the Atlantic said she thought her record was "fine."

Mary Stoddard John and His Wife Are the Ones to Settle Their Marital Difficulty Is Reader's Belief

By MARY STODDARD
Only John and his wife know how to solve their problem of broken love at middle-age, is the belief of a reader in this morning's mail. Public opinion is fickle, doesn't last long, and shouldn't affect what these two persons do. "Know thyself," is the philosophy this reader would suggest and let the rest of the world go hang.

Her letter follows:
Dear Miss Stoddard: I have been especially interested in the problem of "John," the middle-aged business man who wishes to divorce his wife and marry a fine girl whom he has known for eight years. He states he never loved his wife, but remained with the ship for the children's sakes.

I have been a nurse most all my life and have nursed in all classes of homes from west to east and back to west again.

How About Private Life?
And I ask, who can advise you and your wife on a subject like this? Who knows anything about the feeling between you in the privacy of your own home?

Have there been moments and hours of misery and mental strain, or have they been hours of rest, relaxation and happiness?

Only you two can ask yourselves those questions and answer them truthfully, and when you have done that in absolute fairness to both, then your answer is surely plain to you.

If, as you say, you have never had anything in common during your married years, then your home life together must be only a strain and a misery for both of you and the sooner you are both relieved from that strain the better and happier you will both be both mentally and physically.

Of course your wife being a fine and refined woman naturally dreads the scandal, publicity and talk of divorce, but remember, my dears, you will only be in the headlines a few days and then new topics will hold the public's interest.

Don't Be Foolish
But if your intimate hours, up to the time you met this girl, have been tender, happy ones down through the years, you will open your eyes wide and say after it is too late, "Fool that I am, I have been living in a dream of blindness these last few years," and if your wife and family then say, "I knew you would wake up some day."

However, if the home must be broken up because you are not mated, and you can and will do as you say, provide generously for your wife and family, then why should the public judge, lest they be judged?
A NURSE

BRIDE-ELECT IS COMPLIMENTED AT TWO PARTIES

Miss Clarice Isenor, Huntington Beach, whose engagement to Robert Flippin, Santa Ana, was recently announced, was complimented by two parties within the last week, the more recent being a surprise towel shower in conjunction with a meeting of El Club Pequeno in the home of Miss Charlotte Fulton, Huntington Beach.

The evening was spent in sewing. An attractive assortment of towels went to Miss Isenor, whose marriage is scheduled for November. The hostess served fruit salad, dainty sandwiches, cakes and coffee. Pink roses centered the table.

Misses Ethel Chafe, Marjorie Hatter and Clarice Isenor and Mesdames Floyd Hubbard and Elmer Ameling were the guests.

Another pretty party was given by Mrs. Floyd Hubbard in her home, 1115 Louise street. Bridge play resulted in the awarding of prizes to Miss Ethel Chafe and Mrs. L. S. Hadley. Ices, cakes, coffee and mints were served. The honoree received a shower of kitchenware gifts.

Invited also were Misses Natalie Neff, Jeanne Lieve, Charlotte Fulton, Marjorie Hatter, Beth Flippin, Corinne Lecrivain and Clarice Isenor, and Mesdames Elmer Ameling, Don Hanson, Peter Isenor, Albert Ameling, James Maiola and Robert Flippin.

COLLEGIENNES COMPLIMENTED WITH PARTY

Misses Dora Lloyd and Janet Raitt, who'll be off to Claremont Monday to become Pomona collegiennes, were feted in a farewell way when Miss Mary Elizabeth Heaney hosted yesterday at her home on East Bishop street.

Mrs. H. J. Heaney assisted her daughter in preparing a black-laid table with red and black pottery service and red bowl-of-fruit centerpiece for the luncheon hour. Games were played for prizes afterward. Mr. Heaney drew the clever farewell table placecards.

Guests included Misses Frances Was, Barbara Holman, Gerry Griffith, Elizabeth Borchard, Virginia Stewart, Mary Crowe and Jane Galbraith.

ESTELLA DANIEL SOCIETY TO MEET

"Bring a friend," is the invitation to members of Estella Daniel's Missionary society of the First Presbyterian church for their meeting this evening in the church social hall.

A covered-dish supper will be served at 6:30 o'clock. Each member is asked to bring a dish and table service for two.

The Thinkers

Wherein women of the community express their views on topics of particular interest to women.

What, in your opinion, is the value of forums?

Miss Ruth Crosby: I feel there's a wonderful value in good forums, particularly because of their informal nature. In addition to lectures from the platform, forums encourage group discussion and bring out much interesting discussion and informative material.

Mrs. Edith Thatcher: I think forums tend to stimulate thought. They also provide a good background of facts from which one may form intelligent opinions.

Miss Mabel McFadden: I think forums are of more personal benefit when they are small. Informal discussion is generally helpful in forming opinions. The value of a forum, of course, depends on the subjects presented and how they are treated.

CONTEST LAUNCHED FOR ATTENDANCE

Inauguration of an attendance contest with Earl Stone and Mrs. Enola Morse captaining the two teams featured the meeting of Golden State, R. N. A., Wednesday night in the K. of P. hall.

Mrs. Morse is to be hostess to the luncheon club at her home, 2055 West Eighth street, Oct. 4.

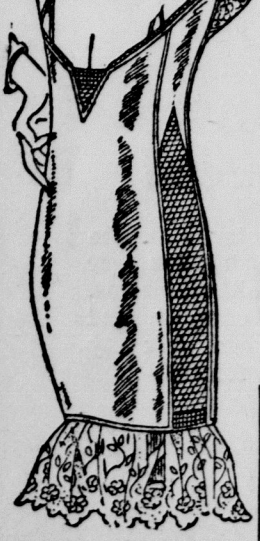

Welcome was extended Mrs. B. M. Crawford, oracle, who had just returned from Utah. Visitors were Lenore Fletcher, district deputy, Charles Lee, Orange, and Mrs. Rose Nelson, Adrian, Mo.

Refreshments were served by a committee including Mrs. R. C. Boyd, Miss Treva Johnson and Mrs. I. Pennington.

WAXED ROCKERS

Woolens should be washed in lukewarm water without much rubbing or wringing. Rinse them well always in water of the same temperature. When sponging woolens put them flat on the table and then place a wet sheet over the piece on which you are working. Have the sheet wrung out so the water will not drip. Then roll material and sheet together from one end and let them remain that way for the better part of a day. After this press on the wrong side with a moderate iron for scorching is a danger to be avoided by using mild heat.

Use of 'Canned Blood' for Transfusions Tried in U.S.

CHICAGO, Sept. 13. (P)—Experiments with "canned" blood, a contribution of the dead to help the living, were being conducted today at the University of Illinois research hospital.

The "canning" process, used in human transfusion cases in Russia for five years, will be tried out here first on dogs, Dean David John Davis, of the university medical school, said.

Describing the technique, he said the blood of a healthy dog would be "canned" in glass containers in an electric refrigerator.

Another dog would be then bled to the point where a transfusion would be required to sustain life. The first dog's blood would be injected into the living animal's veins.

If results are the same as those obtained by Dr. S. S. Judin, chief surgeon at the Sklifassowsky institute in Moscow, and his physiologist colleague, Dr. W. N. Schnow, the weakened dog would regain his strength, Dean Davis said.

Hundreds of human lives have been saved in Russia through this innovation, Dean Davis declared on his return from a foreign tour. Blood is taken only from bodies of persons who died suddenly, the Dean explained, to avoid infection.

In national park visitors of 15 per cent from Oct. 1, 1934, to Aug. 31, 1935, compared with the 1934 period.

NEW STUDENTS AT U. S. C. GET WEEK FOR ORIENTATION

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 13.—Incoming freshmen and junior college students will be given a week's time to orient themselves to college life at the University of Southern California before starting classes, according to Walter Sykes, acting coordination officer at U. S. C., who announced that the period of Sept. 17 to 21 has been set aside as freshman week.

Junior college entrants begin the parade of activities on the Trojan campus for the fall semester when they begin registration at 8 a. m. Tuesday, Sept. 17.

Incoming freshmen receive their introduction to college life the following morning at 9 o'clock when they take the English classification test in Bovard auditorium. Following the examination an assembly will be held in Bovard auditorium when President R. B. von Klein Smid will welcome the neophytes and introduce campus leaders and deans of the 23 schools and colleges.

LIONS OR SHEEP?

"BETTER to live one day as a lion than a hundred years as a sheep!" is the war slogan adopted by Mussolini. But the thousands of young Italians this war-mad 20th century Caesar threatens to send into African jungles would neither live nor die like lions.

History shows that Africa knows how to deal with the white man's invading armies.

In the two Boer wars Britain learned how helpless European troops may be against the guerilla fighters. What happened to Sir George Colley at Majuba Hill was typical—a rout ending in the death of Sir George and 91 men, while the Boers lost only one man. In the four battles of 1881, Mark Twain recalls, the British lost in killed, wounded and prisoners 1300 men, the Boers only 30. In the Second Boer War the British lost 5774 killed and 22,829 wounded.

In 1921 the Spaniards and French learned their African lesson in Morocco in a series of disasters at the hands of the fanatical Rifians under Abd-el-Krim. "Mountains impassable except on foot and with donkeys minimize the importance of artillery, cavalry and aviation," wrote Prof. M. M. Knight of Columbia of these Moroccan wars.

Africa sends death not only through rifles and machine guns concealed behind rocks, bushes and trees. It sends it on the wings of poisonous insects, in foul water, miasmal heat, by way of vermin, snakes and wild beasts. Scientists warn of the dangers of thirst and the certainty of that deadly scourge of white men, typhus. Brave as lions the young Italian legionnaires may be. But Mussolini would send them to die like sheep.

WHEN MONEY IS EVIL

YOUNG Henry Rogers, Jr., who inherited more money than good sense, pulls another sensation in his Pennsylvania farm home. A wild party ends in a tragedy, and Evelyn Hoey, a blonde torch singer, is either murdered, or is a suicide.

The report that Rogers was too drunk to contribute any satisfactory explanation immediately following the tragedy, would tend to confirm the conclusion that nature in the raw is seldom mild.

A question naturally arising out of tragedies of this type is whether they would occur if there were not so much wealth involved, and does the man who devotes a lifetime to the accumulation of money contribute to the happiness or security of his offspring, when that wealth is bestowed without any appreciation on the part of the beneficiary of its responsibilities, or the toil required in its accumulation?

Excessive wealth involves excessive risks. Money buys too many things we do not need, and often attracts parasitical associates. Properly applied money is a virtue, improperly applied it becomes a vice which leads to destruction.

If the younger Rogers had worked devotedly going about doing good with the immense fortune his forbear made, the world would have offered a benediction to his good deeds.

COME OUT IN THE OPEN

CARPING critics of city and county administrations, with special reference to the tax budgets for 1936, would carry more weight if they would confine themselves to facts and be frank and square about other matters. Recently these same critics told the world there would be a 41 per cent increase in taxes next year. When they were shown they had mistakenly or deliberately proclaimed an untruth, they said they had "made a mistake." Meantime the damage had been done insofar as publicity is concerned. The retraction was concealed and reluctantly made. Not a word about the fact that Orange county has one of the lowest, if not the lowest, tax rate of any county in the state. Not a word pointing to the fact that in the past two or three years the tax payments for this county were slashed year by year until they were about 20 per cent less than the county had been having right along.

Now comes more abuse and another attempt to discredit both city and county administrations, along with a clumsy attempt to vindicate their former erroneous position.

Of course it all has a purpose. Orange county soon is to vote on a flood control project. The people realize that flood control and added water supply are matters which any far-seeing community cannot longer overlook, with the water levels sinking as rapidly as they are. The subject becomes one of self-preservation. There will be nothing left to tax unless we conserve our water supply.

These critics do not care to come out in the open in opposition to the flood control project now. Rather they would build up a tax scare in the hope it might defeat any and all bonds proposed, including the school bonds. Thus they would accomplish their purpose, punish their political enemies, and not show their hand.

We have heard nothing from these critics about either flood control or schools.

ON THE FEDERAL PAYROLL

JOHN NANCE GARNER, vice president of the United States has a pretty nice job.

He draws down $15,000 a year for his services. His wife gets $4,620 a year for being secretary to her husband.

That's good pay. With almost $20,000 between them, the Garners can live in Democratic simplicity at the national capital.

Wonder what some of the families who live on $70 a month under the federal relief plan think of that?

Whimsies of O. O. McIntyre

Thoughts while strolling: Sign above a Lexington avenue tailor shop: "Confidential Tailors." Probably whisper as they measure instead of yelling one's girth around the block. Anyway it's better than "Reliable." They say the better dressed medics are brain specialists and psychiatrists.

There's the perfectly tailored author and alienist, Dr. Louis Berg. Also the Park avenue medico, Dr. Emmanuel Josephson, who pays his calls afoot, in a polo shirt. Quietest place in town these days: That second floor office in Vesey street with the sign, "Sleighbells."

Oscar Hammerstein II. Debonaire, grave and striding. He's back from Hollywood where he wrote a movie opera of fisher folk. But found more Sorrento air at San Francisco's fisherman's wharf than in Italy. There's Arthur Hornblow too, displaying a sun-burn acquired in Sudan.

They think New York torrid this summer. But in the Sudan the mercury hits 115 in the shade. And in the papers the other day was a few line notice of the fall of Khartoum and the death of General Gordon. That's forgotten everywhere—except in the Sudan. Sic transit gloria mundi!

Admiral Byrd in Times Square. Out of the cocoon of furs, he is the ultimate punctilio of Narragansett elegance. In white with radiant tie and shirt. Al Bedell's smoke stack collar. Pretty Jean D'Almyrille. Crack from Spokane. "If radio is such good advertising, why can't Joe Penner sell his duck?"

Outdoor dining that has so seized mid-town New York is old hat to patrons of several Gotham cafes. For 19 years Second Avenue's Cafe Royal has prided itself on its latticed and tub-tree terrace a la Paree. It's the rendezvous of lion-manned Jewish journalists and musicians, who argue with arms folded on their canes, chiefly on Auer, mathematics and the philosophy of Lenin.

Then there are the quiet, cool cellars on Washington street in the Armenian quarter. Of Rembrandtesque gloom, with a stove at one end and catering exotic provender. Coffee thick enough to hold a spoon upright and delicately flavored with orange and cinnamon. Several were haunts of the exiled poet, Kahili Gibran, who wrote and illustrated "The Madman" on the damp tables. For dessert: Shish-kebab and the many-layered honey and flakey nut pastry, Baklava, rolled out with wooden pins two yards long. Armenians are the greatest novel readers in the world. And the shoe-eyed, gracious children in the quarter are the handsomest in Manhattan.

Most of the more than one hundred chess clubs in Manhattan flourish on the lower East Side. Some official, some social but all esoteric. And dense with tobacco smoke and hairy Mahatmas of the game. They play rapt, wordless, as if as spirits on distant mountain peaks, and in the cold realm of pure brain. Or maybe in an intellectual Nirvana. Silent fumes on the board, brilliant attacks worthy of Poch done in one slow move of the hand, or a Waterloo achieved in an hour. Your real adept never loses a game. Napoleon played at chess all his life but never got to master it. Coolidge was a good player. So is Otis Skinner.

New fad: Going in for unusual drinks. The teetotaler George Buckley has a delectable old English perry stronger than schnapps. Welsh mead and made of black honey. Greek Mayrodaphne is again coming into its own. Also Scotch heather wine and Davon crack made of plums. Billy Seaman has a wierd collection, including a Chinese brandy made of legs of mutton. It comes in stone jars and smells like Japanese sake. Sake, by the way, is served warm. There's Mexican tequila, too, with a lick of lemon and salt. Arak, the aniseed liquor, is not the same as arrack, the East Indian drink made of pineapple trimmings. Fanny Hurst brought back from Honolulu to Carl Van Vechten a gilliput of okolehu, liquid TNT. Put into a milk shake over there it's fittingly called: "Oh holy cow!" The most difficult wine to get is Imperial Tokay from Hungary. Hardly more than three gallons are available. Thick, not pressed from grape but exuded, it has more vitamins than punch.

From my apartment window I often see against the skyline a man waving a pole in attitude of conjuration but amid a flock of pigeons. They fly away, displeased, then return—usually with new recruits in their ranks. That way he augments his flock. He started off quite modestly three years ago with just one pair. He may be an impassioned pigeon pie. Or just a lonely Metropolitan bird lover!

The earliest specimen of tapestry-work which can be accurately dated was found in 1903 in the tomb of Thutmose IV (1400-1481 B. C.) at Thebes.

Perhaps society should issue injunctions against inventors, re-tying the old, thicker armor, and thicker armor demands more powerful guns. So the net result is something less than nothing, with crushing burdens for all concerned.

Marry on $75 a Month? Sure, Says Local Doctor Who Did It

Should a man marry on $75 a month? No, say the economists. Yes, say some of those who have. How? asks a third group. The Journal would like to know, too. So it assigned Virginia Smith, Journal staff writer, to gather and set down varying opinions of Santa Anans. They will be presented in a series of articles of which this is the second.

By VIRGINIA SMITH

THEY'VE been engaged for a year, but he's still making his $75 a month. There's hope for progress, but in the meantime, should he marry the girl?

This question of depression period engagements was discussed in bald frankness in an article entitled "Love Among the Ruins," in a popular magazine about a year ago. In the same vein, Dr. E. L. Russell of the Orange county health department has this to say on the matter:

"I certainly think he should get married," declared the doctor. "I married on exactly that amount myself in 1926, when prices were a good deal higher than they are at present. I had a promise of a raise to $100 a month in July, but from March until the August payday, we lived on $75 a month."

"I don't believe in long engagements. They're not psychologically sound. A couple should know each other very well, understand family backgrounds, and be well acquainted before they select each other as mates. But after they have decided to marry, they should not put the wedding date off far."

The doctor was emphatic in his assertion that if a young couple does marry on that sum, they should be taught to delay the arrival of a family until they are financially able to support children. The cost of rearing children should not be added to their already heavily-taxed budget, he believes, until they can regulate their lives and increase their income sufficiently to be adequate for a family.

As soon, however, as a young couple can provide for babies, they should rear their families, the doctor said. From his experience in child clinics, Dr. Russell has learned that young mothers are better fitted for their jobs and have better babies than older women.

Most young couples, the doctor feels, expect to start off on too high a scale.

"They want too much," he said. "A man doesn't have to have an automobile. Walking is good for him. Simple pleasures, inexpensive but wholesome food, and modest, clean quarters can be obtained to satisfy a young couple who are not extravagant in their desires."

"Younger mothers are not so nervous, have greater mental and emotional stability, are physically stronger, have more patience, and rear their children more easily than their older companions."

"If a couple have youth and health, energy and ambition," he added, "and prospect of getting ahead and increasing their income, I see no reason why they shouldn't get married on $75 a month. A lack of any one of those qualities will be the cause of difficulties which will threaten their marital happiness. But they can make a go of it."

Del Norte is not an agricultural county as the government forest reserve covers 78 per cent of the land area. Acres suitable for cultivation aggregate 90,000, of which 36,965 are under cultivation. With no railroads, Del Norte until recent years was California's last frontier. But state highways have made it easily accessible and Crescent City harbor, now under construction, is destined to become the sixth major harbor on the Pacific coast. It will provide an outlet for millions of tons of copper, gold ore, lime rock, 80 per cent of all the known chrome ore in the nation, silica, marble, man-

Howdy, folks! Nowadays it's detour signs that make the world go round.

Joe Bungstarter is so lazy he can't decide whether to stay in bed all morning or to get up early so he'll have a longer day to loaf.

LITERARY SECTION

Horace J. Peruna, Garden Grove, occupies a unique place in modern American life. Mr. Peruna is said to be the only person in the United States who is not trying to write a short story or novel.

Short Story: He told her he would go through fire and water for her. He also said that he would meet her at the usual place—weather permitting.

OBITUARY NOTE

Joe McBlink—age 90 years. Justified his neighbors' fears: They prophesied in early youth He'd die from drink—they told the truth.

Joe Bungstarter and his wife had an awfully hard time getting married. Mrs. Bungstarter would not marry Joe when he was drunk, and Joe wouldn't marry her when he was sober.

ABIGAIL APPLESCAUSE SEIZ: "In this age of buying on 'th' installment plan, it isn't necessary for anyone to know just how poor anyone else is."

A woman is capable of only one great love in her life; it's a pity that she cannot tell it from the others.

Li'l Gee Gee asked us this morning if it was true that Joe Bungstarter is now doing settlement work.

Yes, his creditors have finally cornered him.

Walt Swanberger says: "What this world needs is more heat in hot dogs."

YE DIARY

Thys day, being mighty lazie, do telephone the printery that I do be suffering from a pain in the region of the gozzle and would be unable to report for worke. And so all the day to loiling about the house, with vast peace and content, albeit I do feel as I did when a small boy playing hookey from the Lincoln grammar school, when I did imagine that the truant officer did be peering at me from behind every telephone pole in the block. So passed this day.

Jiggers, kids, here comes the hookey cop!

Twenty-Five Years Ago

SEPT. 13, 1910

The El Modena school opened yesterday morning with G. L. Gilkerson of Anaheim as principal, and Mrs. Ida Crowell, Miss Lulu Evans and Miss Sally Catland as teachers.

The Mission Study class met at the home of C. L. Segerstrom Friday evening, attended by 15 with Philip McClintock as leader. After the lesson, a social hour was enjoyed.

The use of automobiles is said to be growing so general in Kansas that it is difficult to find enough horseshoes for the quoit games.

Mr. and Mrs. Theo Harvey and family left today for Los Angeles, where they will spend a few days before returning to their home in Redlands. Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Whitton entertained yesterday at a family dinner in their honor.

Work was commenced yesterday putting up the tents for the Odd Fellows on the block bounded by Fifth, Sixth, Lacy and Grant streets. There are 200 tents with flooring, springs, mattresses and bed linen for each one.

Which recalls a time when George Rayner was secretary of the chamber of commerce an eastern correspondent inquired about the navigability of the Santa Ana river. George divined he was being baited and went into an exhaustive explanation of the peculiarities of the Santa Ana, its seasonal eccentricities and navigable possibilities. Then George built the boat for his correspondent so he could use it in the river, but he put on skids with roller bearings. Evidently the inquiring soul became discouraged, or he may have had some doubts as to the merit of the secretary. In any event he never came west to explore the river, which is now an important problem in our economic life, even if there isn't any water in it.

Further discussion of the Kelly-Collins depression plan wait until a correspondent gets his answer to an inquiry as to what I think of the capacity of the Democratic party. In order to get the proper setting for consideration the judge will retire to his chamber. The answer cannot be judicially made until there has been a test case. Will my correspondent possess his soul in patience? When this decision is made I want it to hold water. There must be no reversal from a higher authority.

SKINNY SKRIBBLES

Around and About Town

With C. (Skinny) SKIRVIN

Come hither politicians, brain trusters, statesmen and disciples of Disraeli, Pericles, Aristotle, Socrates, old Permos, Moley, and other governmental superlatives. The depression has been conquered, and out from the dusk by the humble man who stops, looks and listens. After a most heart-breaking ordeal and persuasive appeal, Gene Kelly and Bob Collins have assured the exclusive publicity rights to Skribbles, who herewith proclaims to those whom it may concern the solution for all depressions. All that remains to complete the deal is the proper provision for funds to carry on the work, and boy, it will require some carrying.

To take up the unemployment slack—that's the ambition. And at the same time show no geographical preference in absorbing the funds of the unemployed, it is proposed to dredge the Santa Ana river. Water has always been our perplexing problem. The promoters of the proposed method—same as mentioned above—aver and stipulate as follows: If the federal government will provide enough money to do the dredging they will provide the river. Work should really get going before the next presidential election. At least before the rainy season or else the plan might become obsolete. It is the intention of Kelly and Collins—sounds like a dig—in partnership—to do the excavating with spoons, tea type preferred.

Some delay is anticipated due to the inability of manufacturers to provide long handles. You see it will require considerable skill to get a spoonful of sand to the top of the bank unless the handle is long enough. And then this method will prolong the work as it takes more time to get to the top and back again with a long handle spoon. You understand that time is the essence of this proposition.

About the only difficulty the promoters expect to encounter is man congestion. They may be in each other's way, but they are now, so conditions will be no worse under the Kelly-Collins plan. And the promoters are sure they won't run out of sand. Some disturbance is expected in the Riverside-San Bernardino sectors. They may refuse to furnish their part of the river, which would complicate matters, but should trouble occur look at the galaxy of counsel introduced before unfolding the scheme. But why wait for a couple of recalcitrant counties, if government funds are available to carry on the work in the lower part of the river. Half a river is better than no river at all.

You must remember it's water we are after. Plenty of it. Don't you recall the time when there was no water in the banks—or was it too much water. But this isn't a financial discussion. It's the good old aqua pura. Good for your stomach and orange grove. A two-way service, and irrespective of the Metropolitan Water District. Boy, that firm of Kelly and Collins has got something.

Which recalls a time when George Rayner was secretary of the chamber of commerce an eastern correspondent inquired about the navigability of the Santa Ana river. George divined he was being baited and went into an exhaustive explanation of the peculiarities of the Santa Ana, its seasonal eccentricities and navigable possibilities. Evidently the inquiring soul became discouraged, or he may have had some doubts as to the merit of the secretary. Will my correspondent possess his soul in patience? When this decision is made I want it to hold water. There must be no reversal from a higher authority.

Passing a West Sixth street place of business where the sign "Rubber Stamps" is displayed. My associate stops to remark: "So that's where congress meets."

Met the blonde. Says if the other party does not change his mind she is going to get married. Oh, well, there are other blondes, which reminds me of the inquiry a friend made of a married man as to whether a blonde or a brunette was the best temperament, and got the reply that he didn't think it made any difference—that his wife had been both.
